

8	What is the perimeter of a haircut?	The internal shape	The guideline used throughout	The outer visible edge	The shortest layer
9	Which cutting angle is most commonly associated with graduation?	0°	30–60°	90°	180°
10	What is the main benefit of sectioning hair before cutting?	Increases shine	Improves control and accuracy	Changes texture	Makes hair grow faster
11	Which tool is primarily used to refine fading techniques?	Diffuser	Feather razor	Clippers	Round brush
12	What is texturising designed to achieve?	Increase perimeter length	Add colour contrast	Reduce bulk and add movement	Create a solid shape
13	Why is tension important during haircutting?	It affects cutting accuracy and consistency	It changes the hair colour	It increases volume permanently	It makes sectioning unnecessary
14	Which haircut structure is produced by cutting the hair at 90° from the head?	One-length	Graduated	Uniform layer	Tapered
15	What does club cutting refer to?	Cutting hair with clippers	A straight cut across the subsection	Cutting with a razor	Removing weight from the crown